How is Cost Calculated? You are typically charged based on the number of tokens you use.

Two Types of Costs:

Input Cost: The fee for the tokens in your prompt.

Output Cost: The fee for the tokens the AI generates for you. (Output tokens are often more expensive).

Why it Matters: Understanding the cost structure helps you write more efficient prompts and manage your budget effectively when building applications.